Report of 1st lecture (by Dr. Saurabh Bhattacharyya) of a special lecture series on 11th July, 2023, Department of English, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya

On 11th July, 2023, Dr. Saurabh Bhattacharyya, Associate Professor, Department of English, Chandraketurgh S.S. Mahavidyalaya delivered an online lecture titled “Eugene Ionesco's Rhinoceros: An anti-play” via Google meet at 7 pm. This lecture was meant for the 6th semester core students but the other students of the department from different semesters also participated with great enthusiasm. In his lecture, Prof. Bhattacharya referred to the glorious illogic in Eugene Ionesco's play and the causal disruptions that characterize the playwright's vision more generally. More than twenty-five students took part in the session as well as in the interactive session that followed Dr. Bhattacharya's lecture.

Report of 2nd lecture (by Smt. SravastiChattopadhyay) of a special lecture series on 26th July, 2023

Department of English

Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya

The Department of English of Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya organised the second lecture of a proposed lecture series on 26th July 2023 from 1.00 onwards in the seminar room of the college. The lecture series is aimed towards the benefit of the students who will get a chance to clear their doubts and broaden their perspective on given topics of their syllabus. Smt. SravastiChattopadhyay, Associate Professor in English of Mahadevananda Mahavidyalaya was the Resource Person for the second lecture and the topic of her lecture was “European Renaissance: Without & Within”.

Students of both honours and general course of our college attended the lecture. Introduction of the topic was done by Smt. Shiuli Sarkar, Assistant Professor and H.O.D. of the department of English of our college. This was followed by a speech of Dr. PapriChakrabarti, IQAC Coordinator of Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya who welcomed the speaker and stressed on the relevance of the timely arrangement of this special lecture which would be of great help for the students. Sri Jayanta Rana, Assistant Professor of the department of English introduced the honorable speaker. The topic is a part of Sem 2 honours course and thus deliberations enriched the students and helped them for their upcoming exam. The speaker broadly discussed birth of European renaissance, the shift from medieval to renaissance, the difference between these two ages, its impact on contemporary literature and world, immortal arts that were produced in this age etc. Moreover, she suggested a lot of books and provided links of a few YouTube videos which will really help the students to explore the age in a much better way. The interactive session moderated by Sri Smt. Shiuli Sarkar, was vibrant with questions and commentaries both from the students and teachers. The Valedictory Speech was delivered by Smt. Prama Bhattacharjee, Assistant Professor of the department of English who thanked the speaker for coming in this college to meet our students and to deliver such an engaging and thought provoking lecture.

The Concept:

The College has developed a well-structured Mentor-Mentee system. The mentor is one resort for a student where one can seek knowledge, guidance and support at all times. The mentor bridges the communication gap between parents and management by regularly updating the parents about the student's progress and updates from the college.

The Process:

1. Regular meetings are held between mentor and mentee.
2. The mentor keeps a record of all the names and contact details of his/her mentee.
3. The mentor gives personal attention to the mentee for their academic or stress related issues.
4. The mentor gives advises, suggests measures, contacts the guardian if necessary.
5. The mentor may also seek the help of professional counselors if it is necessary.
6. The record is kept for future references, although the data is treated as extremely confidential.
7. Students are allowed to approach the mentor for both academic & personal problems, through telephone, Whatsapp, messaging or by meeting the mentor personally.
8. The system has helped bridging the gap between the teacher and the student.

Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya
Personality Development session with SBI Life
Organized by Career Counselling Cell (2023-24)

Career Counselling Cell, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya organized a Personality Development program with SBI Life on 01.08.23. Twelve ex-students of the college participated in this career Counselling program. The session started at 1.00 pm at the seminar room of the college. Four representatives from SBI Life were present for this purpose. The program began with a motivational speech by the TIC Milinda Majumdar to the ex-students for getting the scope to be prepared for the job market. Career Counselling Cell Convener Sukanya Som talked with students about being confident during the personality development session & assured them that if their mock performance lacks anything, the officials will guide them to overcome the errors. After that, career Counselling Cell members left the room and in a totally professional way, SBI LIFE representatives continued the PD program. The program continued for two hours. They took 3 steps for the confidence build up program- Express yourself, group discussion session & communication skills round. This program helped our students to enhance their body language skills and time management skills. This will also improve their communication skill. More importantly this career orientation will make them to be more confident in facing job interviews. Thus the program ended with a fruitful hope of the bright future prospect for our ex-students.

NETAJI SATABARSHIKI MAHAVIDYALAYA
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

Workshop on Area Studies: Local history of Ashoknagar
SESSION: 2023 – 2024

In the academic session 2023-24, the department of History, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya organized a workshop on Area studies to sensitize our students about the local history of Ashoknagar. Another aim of the workshop was to create a research-oriented mentality among the General stream students. The Area Studies workshop was an attempt at making the students understand the Importance of knowing local history instead of gaining only bookish Knowledge. The department started preparing for the workshop and it was arranged on 10.10.2023 at the F5 Classroom. Around 62 general students of semester five participated in the workshop. At first they were informed what is area studies, why they should know about it, how it is linked with the local history studies. Then HoD, History, Sukanya Som discussed with students the different aspects of the history of Ashoknagar with Power point presentation, Swastika Biswas, Assistant professor, department of History analysed some historically important locations and presented photos of historical importance pertaining to the local history of Ashoknagar. They also inspired the students to start the area studies research by themselves under the guidance of the departmental teachers focusing more on refugee studies, partition studies & diaspora studies. The workshop successfully managed to inspire the students to move beyond the elitist dynastic historiography and delve deeper into such necessary interventions like local history, women history, sub-altern history and so on. The workshop, in perfect semblance with existing and contemporary research methodologies, promoted the need of a decentralized historiography, accommodating multiple perspectives & multi-layerdness of historical narrations. The students, as it is hoped by the department would turn out to be not merely inquisitive learners but also active agents in the narration of history in this process.

A report on the Soft Skills Certificate Course, 2023-24

With a view to provide students with some additional employability skills within the college premises, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya offered the Soft Skills Certificate Course in the Odd semester of 2023-24 sessions. It was collaboration between the departments of English, Journalism and Mass Communications and Mathematics. The course covered some basic soft skills like spoken English skills, tips on self-grooming, basic skills of facing an interview, knowledge about body language, formal and non-formal communications, basic techniques of formal correspondence, self-introduction among others. The curriculum was designed by the teachers of the college who took the responsibility of teaching and continuous assessment as well as end-term exam. The course convenor was Prama Bhattacharjee, Dept. of English. The other teachers were Rosona Khatun and Moumita Sarkar, both from the dept. of Journalism and Mass Communications, Dr. Abhirup Datta from dept. of Mathematics and Ranit Ray from dept. of English. The classes were taken primarily in the offline mode, and during the puja vacation, a part of the curriculum was taught in online mode. At the end of the course the students were assessed both with written examination as well as interviews. Only those who secured pass marks in total assessment, were provided with certificates. Although 69 students had initially enrolled for the course, only 19 students were provided with certificates after fulfilling the basic criteria.

Interdisciplinary seminar (Session 2023-24)

Organized by Department of History on

Press Laws and Regulations: Their Significance and Effect in the Context of the Colonial Era

On 13/12/23 Department of History organized a student centric interdepartmental seminar for sem V students on “Press Laws and Regulations: Their Significance and Effect in the Context of the Colonial Era”. Rosona Khatun, SACT, Department of Journalism & Mass Communication was the resource person for the seminar. The seminar started at 11am and was inaugurated by Dr. Antara Chowdhury, IQAC Coordinator with a short speech on the importance of the seminar. HoD Sukanya Som welcomed the resource person and discussed the context of the said seminar. After that the speaker discussed briefly on Indian Press laws and restrictions during the British era. Newspapers played a big role in arising nationalism among the countrymen. It not only published the torturous side of the colonial rule but also focused on British exploitation, socio-economic issues, which created mass agitation against the government. As a result The colonial administration imposed a series of restrictions suppressing print media that spoke against the British Govt. Thus press in India faced lots of oppression in colonial era but Indians fought against such restrictions upon freedom of speech. As India became a democratic country after Independence, the media has now become the 4th pillar of it. The seminar continued for two hours and at the end of it there was a very enlightening interactive session with the students. Teachers too participated in this discussion. The seminar was attended by forty two students. The program ended with a vote of thanks by Swastika Biswas, Assistant Professor, History.

REPORT OF STUDENTS' WEEK OBSERVATION (2ND JANUARY, 2024 TO 8TH JANUARY, 2024)

As per the directives of the West Bengal Government, STUDENTS' WEEK was celebrated in our NETAJI SATABARSHIKI MAHAVIDYALAYA from 2nd January, 2024 to 8th January, 2024 through various colorful events and programmes. As part of this, SIT AND DRAW and EXTEMPORE COMPETITION were organized on 06.01.2024 under the initiative of NSM Green Club and in collaboration with IQAC. Eleven contestants participated in SIT AND DRAW COMPETITION, which was started at 12 noon at NSM Central Library. The subject of their drawing was environmental awareness. They were given one hour for drawing. Next, EXTEMPORE CONMPETITION was started at 1 p.m. at Seminar Room along with thirteen participants. They all had to pick up a piece of paper from a box, where their topic of speech was written. All of them were given five minutes for their speech. The focal theme of all of them was also environmental awareness. Dr. JitendraNath Barman from Department of Political Science and Prof. Ranit Ray from Department of English were present for judgment of EXTEMPORE COMPETITION. At the end, two judges advised the participants on various aspects of the competition and also declared the results of the competition. Faculty members led by Prof. Krishna Mitra of our NSM Green Club judged the drawings and declared the name of rank holders. NATURE WALK was held at 2.30 p.m. on 08.01.2024 in our college campus to identify some common and uncommon trees and herbs. The programme was led by Prof. Prama Bhattacharjee, Chief Advisor of the Green Committee. The walking programme lasted for one and half an hour approximately. Dr. Abhirup Datta, Convenor, Green Committee along with four students accompanied her throughout the whole NATURE WALK programme in college campus.

The main objective of these two types of competitions is to encourage students to do various creative activities beyond traditional studies. The main aim of such competitions is to develop the latent talent within the students, not just limited to common studies. Students got an opportunity to develop their talent by participating in these two competitions. The students realized that it is not just a matter of winning a prize, but a sense of continuous learning has been gathered. Students got the information to know better their college though Nature Walk. They gained a lot of knowledge about several known and unknown trees and herbs with the help of Prof. Prama Bhattacharjee Madam. They also felt the role of trees and herbs in maintaining the balance of the environment very well.

Date: 4th January, 2024

On 4th January 2024, Professor Mukut Chakraborty, Professor of Chemistry and Director of IQAC at West Bengal State University, delivered an enlightening lecture on the "Blended Mode of Education" organized by IQAC. The programme commenced at 11:30 AM with an introductory speech by the Teacher-in-Charge, Dr. Milinda Majumdar, followed by a keynote address by Dr. Antara Chowdhury, Coordinator of IQAC.

Professor Chakraborty illuminated the significance of the blended mode of education in the ever-evolving educational landscape. His lecture explored the various dimensions of blended learning and its transformative potential for modern educational systems.

Key Highlights of the Lecture

1. Definition and Overview:

Professor Chakraborty began by defining the blended mode of education as a pedagogical approach that integrates traditional classroom instruction with online learning components. He emphasized how this hybrid model combines the strengths of face-to-face interaction and digital tools to enhance the learning experience.

2. Evolution of Blended Learning:

Tracing its historical roots, the speaker discussed the evolution of blended learning, highlighting technological advancements that have enabled the integration of digital resources into traditional teaching practices.

3. Pedagogical Framework:

The lecture delved into the pedagogical principles underlying blended learning. Professor Chakraborty stressed the importance of designing courses that balance in-person and online interactions effectively. He highlighted the need for active engagement, collaboration, and meaningful learning outcomes.

4. Technology Integration:

Professor Chakraborty explored the role of technology in blended education, discussing tools and platforms that facilitate seamless transitions between offline and online components. He emphasized the importance of user-friendly and accessible technologies in creating effective learning environments.

5. Benefits and Challenges:

The speaker offered a balanced perspective on blended learning, identifying its benefits, including flexibility, accessibility, and personalized learning opportunities. He also addressed challenges such as technological barriers, digital literacy, and maintaining student engagement.

6. Interactive Q&A Session:

The session concluded with an engaging question-and-answer segment, where participants sought clarity on implementation strategies, assessment methods, and the future of blended education. Professor Chakraborty provided insightful responses, encouraging further discussion on the topic.

Professor MukutChakraborty's lecture provided a comprehensive understanding of the blended mode of education, showcasing its pedagogical foundations, technological integration, and real-world applications. The session inspired thoughtful discussions, leaving participants with valuable insights into the transformative potential of blended learning in the 21st century.

CAREER COUNSELLING CELL IN COLLABORATION WITH IQAC, ORGANIZED WORKSHOP ON
SELF EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN FISHERY & AQUACULTURE SECTORS IN RURAL WEST BENGAL

On 08.01.2024 as part of student week program, Career Counselling Cell in association with the IQAC of the college organized a one day workshop on Self Employment Opportunities In Fishery & Aquaculture Sectors In Rural West Bengal at room no G4 for the students. The aim of the workshop was to provide students an alternative path towards self-employment. As most of our students are from backward rural areas, the workshop will open up a new carrier venture opportunity for them. The resource person of the workshop was Sri Subrato Ghosh, Assistant Fishery Officer, Directorate of Fisheries, Government of West Bengal at South 24 Parganas, Kolkata. The program started at 12pm with a speech by Smt. Sukanya Som, convener, Career Counselling Cell on the need of self-employment among the youth. IQAC coordinator Dr. Antara Chowdhury inaugurated the workshop with a note on the relevance of the workshop. The resource person was introduced and welcomed by Smt. Prama Bhattacharjee, member, Career Counselling Cell. The resource person began with an interactive discussion with the students about the condition of local ponds & water bodies, their eagerness to be self-employed, their opinion about fishes etc. Fish and fish products are one of the most loved food item in the food habit of around 60% of Indian people which have a great nutrition values too. He gave a PowerPoint presentation on different aspects of pisciculture and aquaculture & discussed the difference between fresh water and brackish water aquaculture. Freshwater aquaculture includes breeding of freshwater fish like carp, catla, rohu, freshwater prawn, freshwater pearl farming. Brackish water aquaculture involves fish production that habitat the sea like sea bass, grey mullet, shrimp, mud crabs. Fish farming has a huge market base and practiced widely in West Bengal. He focused on the fastest growing Fishery sector in India which has a huge potential to provide employment opportunities in various fields- culture fishery activities, fish processing, seed production, transportation, freezing, packaging, selling etc. Growing self-initiatives in fisheries is leading India to be one of the world's largest seafood suppliers. So it can be a profitable business venture for youths after completing education. Thus he encouraged our students to think about independent entrepreneurship in the fishery sector instead of focusing only on 10 to 5 office jobs through this workshop. The workshop was attended by around eighty five students who found it very interesting and some of them had different queries regarding fish farming in their own household or ponds. Sri Subrato Ghosh answered all their queries elaborately. It was a very beneficial workshop for students towards self-employment. Career Counselling Cell members -Dr. Pradip Kumar Mandal, Dr. Shree Chatterjee, Dr. Bidisha Mahato, Debabrata Ghosh, Smt. Timpai Das, Smt. Shampa Ghosh, Smt. Taniya Parvin had big role in the successful completion of the workshop.

Report of interdepartmental lecture on 20th January
Department of English
Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya

On 20th January, 2024, the department of English of Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya in collaboration with the IQAC of the college organised an interdepartmental lecture where the invited speaker was Dr. Pradip Kumar Mandal, Assistant Professor of the department of History of the college. The department had this long awaited plan of hosting an interdepartmental lecture from which students and teachers would be enriched. The programme was inaugurated by Dr. Antara Chowdhury, the honourable IQAC coordinator which was followed by her speech suited to the topic under discussion. It was only befitting that Dr. Mandal would speak on Environment and Folk Society of the Indian Sundarbans (1947-2017) as he is a proud son of the soil and has done extensive research on the topic which was enlivened by his lived experience. Sri.JayantaRana, Associate professor of the department of English introduced Dr. Mandal to the audience present in a lucid yet emphatic way. The programme was moderated by Smt. Shiuli Sarkar, Assistant Professor and HoD of the department of English. Dr. Mandal did a lot of brushing up his wealth of knowledge before delivering the speech. He selected portions of his study, videos and anecdotes to enlighten the audience on various socio-cultural, political and quite naturally, historical and environmental realities of the one of the most complex and sensitive ecosystems of the world. At least 20 students were present who were thoroughly engaged by the picturesque lecture emanating from the speaker's ripe assimilation. Their interest was sparked and they engaged in a spontaneous interactive session. The thought provoking and lively session came to an end with a promise of further studies and work on the Sundarbans, presently a site of global attention. Ranit Ray, SACT 1 of the department delivered the valedictory speech.

On the second day (23.02.2024) of Special Camp, we organized a Yoga and self-defense training programme. One of our ex-student Trisha Das, trained the children of our adopted village. Also, NSS volunteers arranged a cultural programme for the children of the adopted village at Gilapole Free Primary School. Students enjoyed this programme and they are performing in this programme.

Sanitization of adopted village

On the fifth day of Special camp (26.02.2024), NSS volunteers sanitized our adopted village. They cleaned the dirty area with a broom made plastic free of Gilapole Free Primary School and spread bleaching powder. NSS volunteers also distributed saplings among villagers (Apple tree, Neem, Papaya etc.).

Free health checkup camp for children of adopted village

On the 6th day (27.02.2024) NSS unit organized a free health ckeck up camp for the children of the adopted village. An eminent doctor Dr. Siddhartho Mukherjee (B.H.M.S.) checked the children’s health. Around forty-five children were checked up their health and he prescribed various medicines and suggestions.

 Interdisciplinary student awareness seminar on WOMEN RIGHTS IN INDIA
 Session 2023-24

Department of History, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya in collaboration with the IQAC organised an interdisciplinary student awareness seminar on Women rights in India on 04.03.24. The speaker of the seminar was Dr. Shree Chatterjee, Assistant Professor, Department of Education, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya. The Indian constitution has prohibited discrimination against women and encourages Indian Government to take measures to safeguard women rights. But sadly crimes against women are increasing day by day. In many cases it has been seen that victim women are unaware of their rights and women centric laws. As a result, they fear to protest or to lodge complains against accusers. So to aware our students about women rights in our country as well as women centric laws, the seminar was arranged. At the beginning of the seminar, HoD Sukanya Som gave a short speech on the importance of knowing about women rights in India and introduced our speaker to the students. Dr. Shree Chatterjee then showed power point presentation and discussed in detail in a chronological way, the evolution of women rights from the nineteenth century to the modern times. The colonial Government in India passed different women centric acts like abolition of 'satidhapratha', Widow remarriage act, Age of consent act etc. which raised awareness among Indians to think of women progress in India. After 1947, Independent India witnessed a concern for women through the constitution of India which was reflected in number of acts like – All India women equality, the maternity benefit act, prohibition of child marriage act, the dowry prohibition act, The national commission for women act 1990, the protection of women from sexual offences act, equal pay for equal work act etc. She talked elaborately on these acts and regulations, asked students to aware society so that women can raise voice against discrimination, molestation and any kind of violence against them. Students also raised some quarries regarding women rights which was nicely answered by the speaker. Thus it became an interesting interaction session among the speaker and the audience. Thirty two students and five teachers participated in the awareness seminar on women rights. The seminar ended with a vote of thanks by Swastika Biswas, Assistant Professor, department of history to the speaker and the students.

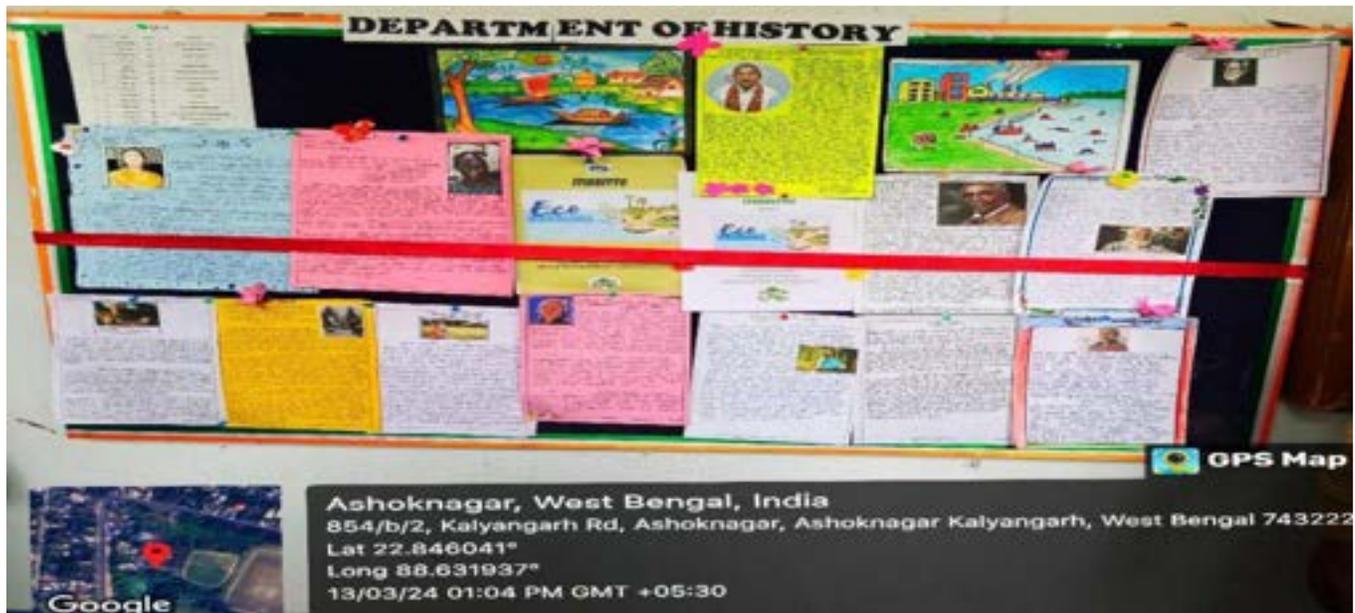

NETAJI SATABARSHIKI MAHAVIDYALAYA
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY
PUBLICATION OF WALL MAGAZINE 'ITIBRITTO', THEME: ECO-WARRIORS
SESSION: 2023 – 2024

Department of History, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya published its departmental student magazine 'Itibritto' on 13.3.24. The theme of ITIBRITTO this year was Eco-Warriors. It was an initiative by the students to create awareness about ecological sustainability and the duty of humankind to protect the environment. There are many people who have contributed immensely and are still fighting for the cause to keep our planet green and waste-free. As it's not possible to write about all of them within a limited space, our Students chose some of them and wrote about their contribution. They beautifully ornamented the magazine with colorful paper flowers and butterflies to attract all the students across all semesters towards the wall magazine. In this way they not only salute the Eco-warriors but also pledged to the students of the college to be an Eco-Warrior with their small efforts like tree plantation, elimination of plastic from everyday life, recycling efforts, raising voice against air pollution etc. NAAC Coordinator Smt. Prama Bhattacharjee inaugurated the wall-Magazine. Teachers of the department appreciated the efforts of the students.

Report on the Add-on Course in the Department of Geography, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya: Academic Session 2023-24

The Department of Geography at Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya successfully conducted a specialized add-on course titled "Tools and Techniques in Geomorphic Studies: Practical Applications and Case Studies" from March 15 to April 30, 2024. This comprehensive report outlines the course structure, implementation, and outcomes, demonstrating its effectiveness in enhancing students' practical knowledge and research capabilities in geographical studies.

Course Overview and Implementation

The course was meticulously designed to provide students with both theoretical knowledge and practical field experience in geomorphological studies. The program attracted 23 participants and was structured as a 40-hour blended learning module. The curriculum was thoughtfully divided into three main components: 18 hours of direct classroom teaching, 18 hours of field training, and 4 hours dedicated to course evaluation, ensuring a well-rounded educational experience.

A significant highlight of the program was the incorporation of expert knowledge through special lectures. Two distinguished external experts, Dr. Swagata Bera from Dum Dum Motijheel College and Mr. Sayan Mandal from Sarojini Naidu College for Women, each conducted two-hour sessions. These collaborations were facilitated through existing Memorandums of Understanding (MOUs) from previous academic sessions, demonstrating the institution's commitment to maintaining strong academic networks.

Field Training Component

The field training component, conducted from March 19 to 21, 2024, took place at Sagar Island and Ghoramara Island in West Bengal. This practical exposure provided students with invaluable hands-on experience in monitoring and identifying coastal landform dynamics, studying coastal erosion patterns, and understanding coastal management strategies. Additionally, students gained insights into local livelihood patterns, integrating human geography aspects with physical geography studies.

Evaluation Methodology and Student Performance

The course employed a comprehensive evaluation system consisting of two components: a 50-mark multiple-choice examination testing theoretical knowledge, and a 50-mark assessment of field performance and participation in group discussions. This balanced approach ensured that both theoretical understanding and practical application skills were adequately assessed. The student performance analysis reveals impressive results. Out of 23 participants, 19 students achieved an 'A' grade or higher, with two students securing an A+ grade. The remaining four students received B grades, maintaining a satisfactory standard of performance. The highest combined score was 89 marks, achieved through exceptional performance in both theoretical and practical components.

Notable performance indicators include:

- Average examination score: 41.6 out of 50
- Average field performance score: 38.0 out of 50
- Overall pass rate: 100%
- A/A+ grade achievement rate: 82.6%

Student Achievement Analysis

The results demonstrate remarkable consistency in student performance across both theoretical and practical components. The field performance scores were particularly strong, with many students scoring above 35 out of 50, indicating successful achievement of the course's practical training objectives. The theoretical component scores also showed strong results, with several students scoring above 45 out of 50 in the multiple-choice examination.

Course Outcome

The successful completion of this add-on course represents a significant achievement in specialized geographical education. The high-performance metrics and positive outcomes validate the effectiveness of the blended learning approach and the integration of field studies with theoretical knowledge. The course has successfully fulfilled its objectives of enhancing students' specialized learning levels and providing them with practical exposure to geomorphological studies. The strong academic performance across both theoretical and practical components suggests that the course structure and delivery methods were well-designed and effectively implemented. The inclusion of external expertise through special lectures added valuable perspectives and enhanced the learning experience. The field training component particularly stood out as a crucial element in developing students' practical skills and understanding of real-world geographical phenomena.

This course serves as a model for future specialized geographical education programs, demonstrating the value of combining classroom learning with practical field experience and expert guidance. The high success rate and quality of student performance indicate that similar programs should be continued and potentially expanded in future academic sessions.

Interdisciplinary student seminar on Contribution of some Bengali Musicians in rise of Indian Nationalism
Organized by Department of History in collaboration with IQAC
Session 2023-24

Department of History in collaboration with IQAC, Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya organized an interdisciplinary student seminar on Contribution of some Bengali Musicians in rise of Indian Nationalism. On 19.03.24. Dr. Papri Chakraborti, Associate Professor, Department of Music was the main speaker of the seminar. Smt. Sukanya Som, HoD, History introduced the speaker with the audience. Dr. Chakraborti gave a delightful lecture on three important Bengali Musicians of the nineteenth century – Atulprasad Sen, Rajnikanta Sen & Dwijendralal Roy, who played a great role in the rise of Indian Nationalism. Through their songs they sparked the idea in 19th century Bengal that music can raise nationalistic feelings among people. These songs were recognized as patriotic songs during the ‘Swadeshi Movement' in Bengal. Some of the most popular 'Atulprasadi' songs of these period were "Utho go Bharat Laxmi", "Bolo bolobolosobe", "Haodhoromete dhir" etc. Dwigendrageeti that became "ganaSangeet" (mass songs)were "Bangoamarjananiamar", "Dhanodhanyapushpobhoraamadereiboshundhora" etc. RajnikantaSen created magic in arising patriotic sentiments among the youth through his songs like "Mayer deya mota kapor mathaye tuley nerey bhai". These songs were hummed by the mass in the fight against the oppressive British Government. These songs ignited the spirit of nationalism among the mass. Dr. Chakrabarti not only gave speech on the topic, the students of department of Music played a graceful musical performance on these songs which mesmerized the students and the teachers. Such seminar really boosted up the human values of the students and their knowledge about growth of Indian nationalism was increased. Around forty five students attended the seminar. The student seminar ended with vote of thanks by Smt. Swastika Biswas, Assistant Professor, Department of History.

Report on seminar of SharodinduBandopadhyay
Session - 23-24

The Bengali Department and the IQAC of Netaji ShatbarshikiMahavidyala jointly organized a seminar on SharadinduBandyopadhyay. The event took place on April 3, 2024, at 1.30 noon in the college seminar hall. The keynote speaker for the seminar was Professor Jayanta Rana from the English Department of Netaji ShatbarshikiMahavidyala

At the beginning of the seminar, Dr. Antara Chowdhury, the coordinator of the IQAC, delivered a brief speech highlighting the significance of the event. Following this, Jayanta Rana presented a detailed discussion on SharadinduBandyopadhyay's contribution to children's literature, focusing on his character Sadashiv. Professor Rana incorporated various historical references to shed light on Sharadindu's works.

Students from the Bengali Honors Department actively participated in the seminar. A question-and-answer session revealed many lesser-known facts about Sharadindu, with both faculty members and students showing keen interest in this interactive segment.

The seminar concluded with a closing speech by Professor Basudha Biswas, bringing the discussion on SharadinduBandyopadhyay to an end.

Department of English

Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya

On 4th April, 2024, the department of English of Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya in collaboration with the IQAC of the college organised an interdepartmental lecture where the invited speaker was Smt. Basudha Biswas, Associate Professor of the department of Bengali of the college. The department's objective is enrichment of students and teachers through these interdepartmental lectures. The programme was inaugurated by Dr. Antara Chowdhury, the honourable IQAC coordinator which was followed by her speech suited to the topic under discussion. Smt. Biswas spoke on Deshbhager Prekhhite Sahitya charcha harping on the distinctive features of Punjab and Bengal partition. She spoke extensively and passionately drawing allusions and literary examples from Manto to Shaktipada Rajguru. A selection of old newspaper reports, photos related to the communal riot and a few photos of the Partition-induced migration were also shown to the audience. Smt. Prama Bhattacharjee, Assistant Professor of the department of English introduced Smt. Biswas to the audience present in a lucid yet emphatic way. She also moderated the first half of the programme. Smt. Shiuli Sarkar, Assistant Professor and HoD of the department of English hosted the question answer session and it was satisfying to see students' enthusiasm and involvement in the programme. Alfaj Mondal, a student of 6th semester English honours asked a pertinent question to supplement his reading of partition literature in his syllabus. Smt. Biswas did a lot of brushing up her wealth of knowledge before delivering the speech. She selected memoirs, stories both in Bengali and Urdu to portray various facets of the event. At least 25 students were present who were thoroughly engaged by the picturesque lecture emanating from the speaker's ripe assimilation. Their interest was sparked and they engaged in a spontaneous interactive session. The thought provoking and lively session came to an end with a promise of further studies and work on Partition. Sri. Jayanta Rana, Associate Professor of the department of English delivered the valedictory speech.

104th Birthday Celebration of Satyajit Roy

02.05.2024

Satyajit Roy was mainly known for his contributions to films in Bengali, India, and worldwide. But on 02.05.2024, at the celebration of his 104th Birthday, we want to inform our students about his outstanding literary work. For this purpose, the Bengali Department and Library Committee have arranged a program on book reading (গল্পপাঠেরআসর) of literature written by Satyajit Roy. About twelve students read short stories by Satyajit Roy.

The objectives of this program

- ❑ Exploring the great literary work of Satyajit Roy.
- ❑ Reading books improves the memory function of the brain.
- ❑ Reading books increases our vocabulary and improves communication's power in speaking and writing skills.
- ❑ Reading short stories about Satyajit is a great experience.

Offered by

Department of Education

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The primary objective of the value education course is to cultivate a comprehensive understanding of values that transcend mere economic satisfaction, delving into the philosophical and intrinsic significance for students. This course aims to explore the multifaceted nature of contemporary human needs and the higher values essential for self-realization, a prime feature of the Indian Knowledge System, which emphasizes the interconnectedness of all aspects of life and the pursuit of holistic well-being. By promoting enlightened citizenship, it seeks to integrate personal development with social responsibility, emphasizing qualities such as attractiveness, friendliness, strong character, dynamic action, and inspiring interaction. The course encourages the holistic development of students by fostering physical spiritual, moral, aesthetic, cognitive, and social values. It incorporates practices such as yoga and meditation to enhance mental and physical well-being, fostering a balanced and reflective approach to life. To achieve these goals, various teaching methodologies will be employed, including instructive, interactive, activity-centered, and audio-visual approaches. Additionally, the course aims to establish a framework for positive teacher-student relationships, where teachers act as role models, guiding and inspiring students in their personal and academic growth.

COURSE LAYOUT

- Starting date:

Date and Time: June 21, 2024, at 1:30 PM

Topic:

“Mindful Living: Cultivating Values for Well-being”

Resource Person:

Swami Kamalasthananda, Principal, Ramakrishna Mission Vivekananda Centenary College, Rahara

The Department of Education, in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), organized an impactful inauguration program and workshop on Value Education on June 21, 2024, at Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya. The event, which highlighted the significance of mindfulness and values in well-being, drew an enthusiastic audience of students and faculty.

Program Proceedings:

The program was hosted by Dr. Shree Chatterjee, Head of the Department of Education. It commenced with the chanting of mantras from the Upanishads, setting a serene and reflective tone for the session. This was followed by a captivating musical performance by the students of the Department of Music, which further elevated the ambiance.

The formal inauguration was marked by the ceremonial lighting of the lamp by the respected speaker, Swami Kamalasthananda, and the teacher-in-charge, Dr. Milinda Majumdar. Short addresses were delivered by Dr. Milinda Majumdar and Dr. Antara Chowdhury, Coordinator of IQAC, who welcomed the audience and highlighted the objectives of the program.

Dr. Pradip Kumar Mandal, Assistant Professor in the Department of History, introduced the esteemed speaker, Swami Kamalasthananda, with a brief and insightful account of his contributions to value-based education and mindfulness practices.

Workshop Highlights:

Swami Kamalasthananda delivered an enriching discourse on the topic “Mindful Living: Cultivating Values for Well-being.” His session explored the essence of mindfulness and its role in promoting mental clarity, stress management, and ethical living. He shared practical techniques for integrating mindfulness into daily life and emphasized the role of value education in creating a harmonious and purposeful life.

The interactive nature of the session allowed participants to engage directly with the speaker, making the workshop highly engaging and insightful.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks extended to the resource person, organizers, and participants. Attendees expressed their gratitude for the enlightening session, which left a lasting impact and encouraged introspection and mindful practices.

The Department of Education and IQAC’s collaborative efforts ensured the success of this workshop, reinforcing the college’s commitment to promoting holistic education and nurturing mindful, value-oriented individuals.
